

Microlin Bio, Inc. Announces Ticker Symbol Change to MICB

NEW YORK, Jan. 14, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Microlin Bio, Inc., a development stage biotechnology company focused on the development of microRNA based therapeutics for cancer, today announced the change of its trading symbol from AMIB to MICB. The change will take effect on January 14, 2016.

The new trading symbol, which is more closely aligned with the Company's name, is intended to strengthen the Microlin Bio brand and increase its profile within the investment community.

Beginning January 14, 2016 all information, including stock trading, SEC filings, and market data related to Microlin Bio, will be reported under the new ticker symbol, "MICB." The CUSIP for company's common stock will remain unchanged. Outstanding stock certificates are not affected by the symbol change and will not need to be exchanged.

About microRNA

MicroRNAs are recently discovered naturally occurring RNA molecules (composed of 19 to 25 nucleotides) that do not encode proteins but instead regulate gene expression and various biological pathways. The improper balance of microRNAs are linked to many diseases, including cancer. As such, replacement or inhibition of deregulated microRNAs may act as a potent means to treat cancers.

About Microlin Bio, Inc.

Microlin Bio, Inc. is a development stage biotechnology company focused primarily on the development of microRNA based therapeutics to treat cancer from technologies licensed from Ohio State University. This includes over 138 pending patent applications and 132 granted patents covering numerous microRNAs. For more information, please visit www.microlinbio.com.
